New Park Plan Given Approval At Special Meeting of Council

At a special meeting of city council Thursday night the city Recreation Commission was authorized to proceed with the development of the city's 16-acre tract east of Millikan Avenue and south of Oakland Avenue.

The meeting had been called for the express purpose of discussing plans and for authorizing the recreation commission to proceed with the development along lines mapped out by A. H. Husted, a landscape architect of Cincinnati.

The sum of $1,494.63 in the recreation fund is to be utilized to start the development in the northwest section of the park. Plans do not contemplate drawing on city funds; that was emphasized.

Richard Waters and Robert Craig were present, representing the Recreation Commission. Other members of the commission are Richard R. Willis, Sr., Rev. Frances T. McCarty and Walter F. Rettig.

THE TWO BOARD members said that already various individuals, organizations and firms had expressed willingness to do something toward developing the park, in addition to giving funds.

The development will proceed without cost to the city, it was indicated. The two members spoke enthusiastically of the project.

Although the election is past we are wondering how many persons can answer this questionnaire? It is called a "test of your political knowledge."

(1) What ward do you live in? (2) In what precinct? (3) Where is your voting place located? (4) Who is the Republican precinct committeeman? The Democratic?

Those are the questions, we hope you're interested enough in to find the answers. Incidentally, you should know the ward in which you live, because next week you can get your trash hauled away free if you get it on the curb in containers the day the trucks are slated to cover your ward.

"It's only a matter of time until this and every other county will have to have voting machines. This 16 to 18 hour day for election officials at the polls is too wearisome to the average worker who has to do the checking and counting at the polls."

This remark by one of the clerks in one of the election voting spots here is echoed by a number of workers. At that, Fayette County voting places, with few exceptions, reported earlier with complete returns that was in the case in most Ohio counties.

Last Tuesday's election ballots proved a little more tiresome for counting and tabulating each vote than usual because of the make-up of the ballot. The necessity for each voter to mark each convention delegate on either ticket he voted proved a complex undertaking for many.

While Fayette County's completed tabulations were ready to report earlier than in most places there was still many an edgy worker, who, while going home in the wee small hours of Wednesday morning, probably vowed "never again."

Voting machines do away with the weary counting in precinct voting places and last minute frenzied counting and tabulating. Just one manipulation of the voting machine lever in each polling place and there is immediately tabulated all votes that have been cast on election day there for each and every candidate and issue.

If the election workers had a tough time, so did those in the news room of the Record-Herald. Besides the tabulating of the results, there was the constant jangling of telephones; literally hundreds of people called in Tuesday night and all day Wednesday until they received their newspaper which gave them the outcome of the voting in black and white.

But, that's what we all expected and what we all wanted; that is what we were at the office for. Our mission of life is to keep the people of the community informed.

Anthrax Studied

WASHINGTON, May 9—The House Agriculture Committee Friday was to consider means of combating an outbreak of anthrax among hogs in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. The meeting was postponed from Thursday.

Clean-up Week Here Starts Monday

Trash Hauling Schedule Set Up And It's Free

Virtually everything was in readiness today for the launching of the annual "Clean-up, Fix-up and Paint-up" week in Washington C. H. next Saturday with a lot of ballyhoo and fanfare and stunts for eye-catching incentives.

The event, sponsored again this year by the Young Business Men's (YBM) organization, is designed to wipe away the winter's accumulation of dirt, trash and debris and get the city all spruced up for the summer months ahead.

The "Clean-up, Fix-up and Paint-up" is to go all the way from the dark recesses of the closets in the homes clear out to the middle of the street. But, it's up to the householders to do most of the work to get the ball rolling.

The city, however, has promised full cooperation—but it all starts at home if the whole objective is achieved.

THE COORDINATED campaign has its advantages, the YBM is convinced. Aside from the incentive, it will simplify one of the main problems—that of getting the trash hauled away.

That is one place where the YBM comes in. Arrangements have been completed by the committee for a house-to-house pickup, starting Monday.

Plans call for the city trucks and street maintenance crews to cover the entire city.

Monday they will be in the First Ward; Tuesday the Second Ward; Wednesday the Third Ward and Thursday the Fourth Ward.

A spokesman for the YBM said: "This gives everyone an opportunity to clear out unwanted rubbish and trash from cellar to attic."

There is only one restriction; garbage will not be hauled away.

ALL THAT HAS to be done is place the trash for disposal in suitable containers on the curb in front of the house on the days scheduled for the pick-up in the wards.

If, for any reason, a householder fails to get the trash out in time for the trucks, a call to 33031 between noon and 6 P. M. will bring a truck to do the job.

A YBM spokesman pointed out that "this service is free . . . (Please turn to Page Three)"

Woman Arrested As Hit-Skipper

CLEVELAND, May 9—A 31-year-old Euclid housewife is free on bond after police charged her with manslaughter in the hit-skip traffic death of another Euclid woman.

Mrs. Constance Radi was arrested Thursday. Police made a house-to-house check in the vicinity of the accident and found her car in her driveway with a damaged front fender.

Police quoted Mrs. Radi as saying she had taken a couple of drinks and couldn't remember what happened. The victim, Carmelita Sala, 30, was struck and killed as she stepped off a curb Wednesday night.

Aide Suspended

COLUMBUS, May 9—State Liquor Director William C. Bryant has notified the Civil Service Commission of the 30-day suspension of Jack W. Hunter, manager of the retail liquor store in Greenfield, Highland County. Bryant said the suspension is for disciplinary period.

Army's New Atomic Gun Said To Be Accurate, Devastating

NEW YORK, May 9—An atomic gun developed by the U. S. Army was described Thursday night as an accurate and devastating weapon, providing field commanders with tremendous "fingertip" fire power—and heralding a new era in the waging of war.

The description of this country's first atomic artillery weapon—a gun that can "hit its target under any weather conditions and give ground troops the kind of devastating close support never before available in warfare"—came from Army Secretary Frank Pace.

Pace said the new weapon "is essentially an artillery piece—but with immeasurably greater power than any artillery hitherto known."

Such atomic weapons, he added, eventually will bring "significant changes" in the Army's traditional mission of closing with and destroying an enemy.

Pace's claims for the weapon came in a speech before a meeting of the National Wool Manufacturers Association.

THE WEAPON has been tested by the Army with non-atomic ammunition but official specifications of the gun remained a secret until Thursday night.

Pace, in disclosing some of the

THERE WILL BE NO EXCUSE for anything like this unsightly and unsanitary pile of rubbish and trash to mar the landscape after next week. The YBM and city are cooperating to make it possible for you to get your debris hauled away free during next week's clean-up, fix-up and paint-up campaign. Just put it within reach of the trucks. Gallia Miners Back In Pits After Flareup

GALLIPOLIS, May 9—A court order that bars picketing Friday protected the non-union Ohio River Collieries, Inc., mine in Cheshire when it resumed operations.

The mine has been the target of what Sheriff George Ehman said was union organizing and picketing since Monday.

Common Pleas Judge Robert M. Betz issued the temporary restraining order late Thursday.

In Columbus, Gov. Frank J. Lausche and his secretary, Ralph Locher, denied that Gallia County officials had asked for help from the state or for the state militia.

"Prosecutor Halliday called to make a report on the situation at the mine," said Locher. "He did not talk to the governor. He talked to me. He said Sheriff Ehman was with him."

"He did not ask for help nor did he ask for the militia."

"GOVERNOR Lausche said he had not been asked for help or for the militia."

Reports that Gallia County officials had asked for state troops were publicized by the Gallipolis Tribune Thursday.

Prosecutor John E. Halliday was not immediately available. His office in Gallipolis said he was attending a wild-life meeting in Columbus.

No pickets appeared Friday. Work resumed on the night shift Thursday night and the day shift reported as usual Friday. The mine employs about 80 workers.

Ehman posted the injunction notice at several places at the edge of the mine property.

The mine, about 11 miles north of Gallipolis and less than a mile from the Ohio River, furnishes coal to the huge Philip Sporn power plant at Graham Station, W. Va.

Thursday night, Ehman arrested and jailed seven pickets. Six were charged with drinking from open flasks, a violation of Ohio liquor law. The seventh was accused of drunken driving.

Ehman also deputized the mine's employees. He issued them badges and authorized them to carry firearms. He said he issued the commissions to prevent possible disturbances. All persons except employees have been ordered to stay away from the mine, he said.

A group of 180 men, who Ehman termed union organizers, prevented employees from working Thursday. The mine was the scene of disturbances on Monday and Tuesday also.

Major Issues Face Both Parties

GOP Debates Foreign Aid; Dems Eye Chances Of Split

WASHINGTON, May 9—Republicans have foreign aid spending as an issue in their presidential campaign while Democrats wondered anew if civil rights would split their party again.

The top contenders for Republican nomination—Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower—were at sharp odds over the amount needed to finance assistance abroad.

Eisenhower, in a cable from Paris to Sen. Tom Connally of Texas, said a $1 billion cut proposed in Congress would hurt. Any deeper slice off the $7.9 billion asked by President Truman would endanger the nation's security, he said.

Taft promptly replied that even a slash of $2 billion would not imperil the program or U. S. Security. After telling this to reporters, Taft said in a Hartford, Conn., speech: "I don't think the American people ought to run the world—or would be good at it if they tried."

CONNALLY, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, had asked Eisenhower's views. He released their message exchange Thursday after Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, who seeks the Democratic nomination as President, cabled Eisenhower. Russell wanted to know if the general thought $6.9 billion approved by Connally's committee would cover the cost of European defenses. President Truman told his news conference Thursday he has not budged in support of the civil rights plank adopted four years ago by the Democratic party.

The resultant southern revolt then cost Truman 39 electoral votes in the 1948 presidential race.

Key southern lawmakers, in view of Truman's pat stand, disagreed as to whether civil rights differences can be patched up. Sens. Burnet Maybank of South Carolina and Walter George of Georgia said they expected a compromise and a united party by general election time. Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, however, said he sees little difference.

City Officials Study Traffic Of Explosives

COLUMBUS, May 9—"I guess it all depends on whether you're gun-shy."

That was the comment of a trucking industry spokesman regarding some objections to the hauling of vast amounts of explosives in central and southern Ohio.

While the Interstate Commerce Commission ponders whether to grant a permanent permit to explosive-truckers who will travel U.S. Route 22 and 52, some cities along the routes have been bitter in protest, others have been ho-hum.

The explosives, coming from ammunition depots in Indiana, Virginia and New Jersey, pass through these cities:

Wilmington, Washington C.H., Circleville, Lancaster, Portsmouth, Ironton and Zanesville.

Seeking the permanent permit is the Baggett Transportation of Birmingham, Ala., the nation's largest carrier of explosives.

Spokesmen for the various cities expressed the following opinion regarding the ammunition cartage:

MAYOR M. K. Arthur of Wilmington: "Residents here would be greatly alarmed because Route 22 covers the main street of our city."

Police Chief D. V. Long of Washington C.H.: "I have no objection if the trucks comply with state regulations."

Mayor Ed Amey of Circleville: "I don't believe I would have any objection, but it would depend on the volume of explosives which would move through the city."

City Engineer Walter Gras of Lancaster: "I am very much opposed to moving explosives"

June Draft Call Hits New Low

COLUMBUS, May 9—State Selective Service headquarters Friday issued the lowest draft call of the year—a June total of 558 men. Previous 1952 low was 1,028 for May and the high was 4,903 for January.

The June call is for draft registrants 20 years of age or more at the time of induction—unless they are volunteers or delinquents. The list:

Clinton 2, Fayette 2, Hocking 19, Pickaway 2, Van Wert 4.

Quarantine Lifted

COLUMBUS, May 9—Twenty-one farms in 38 counties still remain under anthrax quarantine, the State Agriculture Department announced Friday. Latest counties to be released from quarantine include Clinton, Knox, Licking and Fulton. At one time 223 farms had been quarantined by the animal disease.

Women Riled About Politics, May Hold Balance Of Power

NEW YORK, May 9—When women really get riled up, look out. Anything can happen.

It might be a national women's political party. It might even be a woman candidate for President. It most certainly is going to be a tremendous feminine impact in the coming presidential campaigns.

Growing activity of women in politics is evidence by the fact that in many sections there are for the first time more women registered voters than men.

Right now the girls are riled. They're going into action on all fronts, stumping for their favorite candidates, often ignoring party lines to support men who hold out the promise of reform and integrity in government.

Women could hold the balance of power in the coming elections, says Mrs. Joseph W. Mann of Detroit, past national president of the ladies auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Dorothy Mann, who represents some 350,000 members of the VFW auxiliary, is a statuesque, white-haired lady with merry blue eyes that seem to shoot sparks.

DURING HER term as president of the organization she led a drive for cancer research which resulted in a contribution of $120,000 to rebuild the Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory in Bar Harbor, Me., after its destruction by fire in 1947. Says Mrs. Mann:

"This year VFW auxiliary members are taking a more active part

Koreans List Demands For Releasing Dodd

Truce Negotiations Still Deadlocked Over POW Dispute

SEOUL, May 9—Gen. James A. Van Fleet said Friday night he will use force if necessary to rescue Brig. Gen. Francis E. Dodd from the Communist prisoners of war who captured the general on Kojima Island prison camp.

Van Fleet said he would not give in to the Reds "unreasonable" demands for special privileges before they release the prison camp commander.

The U. S. Eighth Army commander made his statement after a flying trip to rebellious Kojima, off the southern tip of Korea.

Van Fleet was under orders from Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander, "to use whatever force is necessary" to free Dodd without delay.

The 52-year-old Dodd has been a prisoner since Wednesday, when North Korean POWs seized him at the gates of a compound.

RIDGWAY SAID the Koreans were demanding "phones, permission to organize, writing paper and some other things" before they would release Dodd.

Meanwhile, deadlocked Korean negotiators met for only 10 minutes. A UN Command spokesman said the Reds probably awaited new instructions from higher up.

The 10-month-old negotiation is stalled over the issue of prisoner exchange, the only major block in the path of an armistice.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il again demanded unconditional return of Red prisoners in Allied hands and rejected the UN proposal to return only those who would go voluntarily.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief UN delegate, replied: "The firmness and finality of the United Nations Command position should be unmistakably clear to you by this time. I have nothing else to say."

They agreed to meet again Saturday in Panmunjom.

Nam has made no mention of the seizure by Kored POWs of General Dodd on Kojima Island. But he spoke of "heroic resistance" of Communist prisoners to what he called Allied coercion to deny them "unconditional repatriation."

THE ARMY released only meager details of the new rebellion at Kojima and kept newsmen from going there.

An Eighth Army spokesman said Dodd and Lt. Col. Wilbur Robert Raven of Newton, Tex., were seized while standing at the gate of the prison compound talking to leaders of the 6,000 Communist prisoners.

"The gate was a wide one," the spokesman said. "Dodd was standing in the center of the gate."

"When the prisoners grabbed him, it was an organized mob and he was swept inside."

"But Raven was standing beside a post of the gate. When the prisoners grabbed him, he seized the post, held on, and by fighting and kicking managed to free himself."

The Army said Dodd has been treated well by the Reds. He communicated with guard posts outside the barbed wire stockade by Army field telephone and couriered messages. He received American food while the North Korean POWs ate their usual bowls of rice—both passed through from outside.

Dodd relayed a Communist demand for 1,000 sheets of writing paper and a "hospital representative." The paper was stacked outside the gate. But Brig. Gen. Charles F. Colson, newly named prison camp commander succeeding Dodd, allowed neither paper nor medic to pass through the gates.

Instead, Colson demanded the Reds release Dodd forthwith. The Koreans ignored the demand.

Eighth Graders Get Recognition

Officers Elected
By Marion PTO

Mrs. Martin O'Cull today was starting another term as president of the Marion School Parent-Teacher Organization.

She and the other four officers of the unit were chosen at Thursday night's meeting when the customary farewell tributes are paid to the eighth graders who will be promoted to high school later this month.

Mrs. R. C. Boyd is the new vice president, Mrs. Earl Downs the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Earl Allison the assistant secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Cecil Kneisley the press reporter.

While the election was important, it was almost overshadowed by the recognition program that had been arranged for the eighth graders who will be leaving Marion School behind.

The meeting opened with a reading of the poem, "My Mother," by Carolyn Shepard. Then there were the reports of the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy Allison, which showed a balance of $401 in the treasury.

PLANS FOR THE basket dinner at noon on May 21 also were outlined and Mrs. Elmo Purdon, Mrs. R. C. Boyd and Mrs. Paul Shepard were named on the committee to carry them out.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Downs, Mrs. Marie McArthur and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Downs were placed on the committee to work out the plans for serving lunch at the Hereford sale here June 7.

With the business out of the way, the eighth graders took over the spotlight almost entirely.

Prin. Eldon Whiteside presented awards to four members of the class who finished among the upper 25 percent in the recent state tests. They were Marilyn Writsel, Mary Ellen Allison, Roger Merritt and Carol Jean Wolfe. Other members of the class of 12 are Lora Lee Yahn, James Bunch, Robert Burke, Shirley Ingle, Frances Oberschlake, Leora Roberts, Patricia Roberts, and Norman West.

A history of the eighth grade class was given by Gary Cartwright, a seventh grader and a humorous playlet that portrayed a ladies committee meeting was put on by the PTO officers, Mrs. O'Cull, Mrs. Allison, Mrs. Loren Reif, Mrs. Wayne McArthur and Mrs. Preston Dray.

When the meeting adjourned and the group gathered for refreshments of ice cream and cake, all the eighth graders were seated at one table-for a purpose. At their places were corsages and dainty handkerchiefs for the girls and pens for the boys, gifts of remembrance from the parents and teachers.

Special Service At Bloomingburg

Program Arranged
For Mother's Day

A Mother's Day service with a musical background is to be given by the Comrades of the Second Mile Sunday evening at the First Methodist Church in Bloomingburg.

The Comrades of the Second Mile is a missionary society made up of members of both the Methodist and Presbyterian churches.

Preparations for Sunday's services, which is to open at 8 P. M. were started more than a month ago under the direction of Mrs. Paul Elliott, the wife of Dr. Paul Elliott, the pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Bloomingburg and McNair Church in Washington C. H.

The chorus of 25 voices is made up of Comrades of the Second Mile and other residents of the community and friends of the organization.

THE PROGRAM, Mrs. Elliott said, will be made up of sacred music and songs especially appropriate for the occasion—Mother's Day.

There will be vocal solos by Mrs. Madison Swope, Mrs. Arthur Engle and Mrs. Al Conaway.

Mrs. Glenn E. Davis, Jr., is to give a reading, "That's You, Mother My Dear!" and Mrs. Madge Pensyl is to give another reading entitled, "Motherhood in Art."

Mrs. Otis B. Core is to contribute a violin number, accompanied by Mrs. George Pensyl.

Mrs. Willard Bitzer is to give the Bible reading and Mrs. John Glenn is to offer prayer.

A boys quartet, made up of David Johnson, David Foster, Clarence Conaway and K. O. Rhoades, is to sing "My Mother's Prayer."

The service is to open with an invocation by Dr. Elliott and close with the benediction by Rev. Robert Marshall, pastor of the Methodist Church.

That is the only part the ministers are to have in the service; the rest is all in the hands of the Comrades of the Second Mile.

Daughters of the Comrades are to assist with the services as ushers for the evening.

The program and the details for the services were arranged by a committee of Mrs. Joe Elliott, Mrs. Donald Mossbarger, Mrs. Glenn Heistand and Mrs. Howard Foster.

Miss Haines Dies Friday Morning

Miss Wilhelmina Marie Haines, 53, who was a clerical assistant at the Public Library here for about 10 months until she resigned early this year because of failing health, died at her home on the White Oak Road in Madison Township at 12:30 A. M. Friday.

She is survived by three brothers, all ministers, Rev. Herbert Haines, Rev. Paul Haines and Rev. Atwill A. Haines, pastor of the Williamsport church, with whom Miss Haines made her home, and a sister, Mrs. E. C. March of Cincinnati.

Funeral services are to be held at the Snyder Funeral Home in Mt. Sterling at 2 P. M. Tuesday with Rev. L. R. Roberts of Springfield in charge. Interment is to be in Willow View Cemetery near Dayton.

Blessed Events

A son, weighing seven pounds nine ounces, was born to Mr. and Mrs. H. Owen Smith of Sabina, in Memorial Hospital at 10:25 P. M. Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Underwood are the parents of a seven pound four ounce daughter born at 8:10 P. M. Thursday in Memorial Hospital. The Underwoods live at 1514 North North Street.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Regulation X—the government control of new home buying—seems bound to be with us a while even though Regulation W—the control on installment buying—has been dropped.

Both were intended to be anti-inflationary and, at the same time, save on materials which the government uses. Both were imposed in the fall of 1950, after the Korean outbreak.

Following the start of shooting, there was a wave of buying. Prices started up.

Under W you had to make a one-third down payment on automobiles, with the rest paid off in 18 months. On nearly all appliances, furniture and floor covering, Regulation W required 15 per cent down, the rest in 18 months.

This was wiped out Wednesday. The stores are bulging and now storekeepers are free to make whatever deals they want with their customers on the size of down payments and time-limits for paying the rest.

INSTALLMENT buying has a gigantic place in the American economy, for in 1950 about half of the $29 billion which the public paid for durable goods was on the installment plan.

There has been opposition to the retention of Regulation X—for example, from the National Association of Real Estate Boards—but the federal reserve people who imposed it in October, 1950, still think it's necessary.

One thing is certain: Regulation X, requiring an unusually large down payment on a new home, has slowed up the sales of new homes.

NARB complains the high down payment on a new home, has slowed up the sales of new homes, says high down-payment discriminates against low and middle-income groups who could make small down payments but not big ones.

At the Federal Reserve Board this explanation was given for keeping Regulation X:

It is still an anti-inflationary measure to discourage large and long-term borrowing on mortgages; and there is the further problem of housing materials:

It was said the outlook on these materials is still not completely clear because, for one thing, of the possibility of strikes that might cut down on the supply of aluminum, steel, copper.

Congress may have a deciding hand in whether Regulation X is kept in effect. It is considering the problem now while it ponders the question of renewing the Defense Production Act, which gives the government wide controls over prices and materials.

Clean-up Paint-up

Clyde Smith, the superintendent of the city maintenance department, said he and the street crews are prepared to give full coverage and added "we just hope there will be more pick-ups than ever this year."

The Fourth Ward is that area that lies north of Court Street and Columbus Avenue and east of North Street; the Second Ward is west of North Street and north of Court Street and Leesburg Avenue; the Third Ward is south of Court Street and Leesburg Avenue and west of North Street; the Fourth Ward is east of North Street and south of Court Street and Columbus Avenue.

BUT THE CLEAN-UP is only a part of the sprucing up campaign. It also takes in fixing up and painting up—both of which not only make the home more livable but also last longer. These are both of practical as well as aesthetic value that can be rated in dollars and cents.

The fix-up and paint-up admittedly are a bit less spectacular because they take more time.

The big ballyhoo is scheduled for Saturday morning on Main Street between Court and Market streets.

Starting at 9:30 o'clock with a blare of trumpets and inspirational music by a part of the WHS band, members of the YBM, armed with brooms and dust pans and garbed in aprons, are to set the clean-up example.

While the YBMers sweep and dust the street, the band will give out with rousing music while a description of their antics is broadcast over a loudspeaker system from a sound truck.

The Record-Herald Friday, May 9, 1952 3

WITH THE CLEAN-UP campaign started Saturday, the YBM crew plans to go to work Sunday with paint brushes on the home of some worthy family in the city. At least 15 members of the group have signified their readiness to spread the paint.

This is a renewal of the event that was tried out for the first time last year.

The paint is to be supplied by most of the paint dealers in the city and the YBM will do the work.

Dr. Charles Griffiths and David Looker headed the committee to select the home to be painted. They have picked out the house, but the announcement of the location and name of the owner has been withheld temporarily.

All the committee would say was that the house chosen for the free paint-up has been without paint or repairs for many years and that "the white coat it will get Sunday should make the owner happy and brighten up the whole neighborhood."

After all the fanfare of the clean-up on Main Street Saturday morning and the fix-up and paint-up Sunday, the YBM feels that the examples should be an incentive to everyone to get busy on the following six days.

The Day Dedicated To American Mothers

There will be many hundreds of people in Fayette County who will perform some act of kindness, do something appropriate, to show appreciation and gratitude, to mothers or in memory of their mothers.

Next Sunday, May 11, is "Mother's Day" and the people of this country are happy and proud to dedicate one day of the year to the honor and memory of mother.

To most mothers it is impossible to pay too much homage. Her unswerving faith in her children, her mighty and endless courage, her fortitude, patience and indomitable spirit has helped this nation become a powerful republic where human beings are free.

To the overwhelming majority, Mother's Day signifies far more than the abundant showering on her of worldly gifts and possessions in some small token of appreciation. It symbolizes the affection and esteem which is accorded motherhood and womanhood in this country, where the influence and touch of the gentle sex has been so pronounced and widespread.

Mother's Day, for the millions everywhere who have reserved this one day for their mothers, is not simply the occasion for the tendering of a gift to her in remembrance, but a time to extend to this gracious lady the utmost in love, affection, loyalty and devotion.

Our Supreme Court

What the bipartisan majority in Congress which stood firm against the late President Roosevelt's proposal to pack the Supreme Court, feared was that such a court would approve unconstitutional acts engaged in by the president.

Mr. Roosevelt felt frustrated because the high court had turned thumbs down on a few of his schemes. Roosevelt wanted authority to increase the justices by a sufficient number so that a majority would have been his appointees.

But Congress stood firm after a bitter, rending battle. Now, 15 years later, nearly every sitting judge is an appointee of Roosevelt or Truman, but each has been confirmed by the Senate. Necessity of Senate confirmation no doubt has kept a few individuals off the bench who might otherwise have been named.

So the federal judiciary, though the product of one-party appointments, has the opportunity to prove that it remains an independent arm of the government dedicated to interpreting the law according to constitutional authorization.

New Scandals

Almost each day the King subcommittee of the House, in Congress, which is investigating the Bureau of Internal Revenue, reveals some new scandal in that agency. Last week the committee announced an official of the Alcohol Tax Unit of the BIR in New York had received $130,000.00 for taking care of a few little matters for a wine concern. Later it was revealed the commissioner of Internal Revenue had permitted three taxpayers to write off large "loans" made the Democratic party as bad debts, and to deduct them from taxable income. As a result the so-called "political loans" actually came out of the federal treasury. One of the "lenders" was multimillionaire Marshall Field, who derives most of his income from British estate of his grandfather, which has been held not subject to U. S. taxes.

New Drug Discovery Is Help to Epileptics

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
Brain waves and new drug discoveries are helping epileptic persons lead a normal life.

The real cause of epilepsy is still often a puzzle. At one time, doctors believed the condition was hereditary, but recent evidence seems to disprove this blanket theory. Many times we discover that epileptic attacks accompany brain injuries, different kinds of strokes, tumors of the brain, or meningitis.

In the vast majority of cases, however, we cannot find any definite reason for epilepsy. It is believed that brain injuries or injuries of early childhood may have something to do with bringing it on.

Appearing After Thirty

When epilepsy makes its appearance after the age of 30, it is important not to chalk it up to "cause unknown." The person should have a thorough physical examination to detect any possible cause, such as a brain tumor, perhaps.

A record of the person's electric brain waves is very helpful in finding the type of epilepsy he has, thus enabling the doctor to use the right treatment for that patient. This record is made with a machine called the electroencephalogram, and the test is not at all painful or inconvenient. In fact, it may be rather pleasant, as it is sometimes made while the patient is taking a nap.

New kinds of medicines are now giving us definite success in making epileptic attacks less frequent and severe. Sometimes, the improvement is very marked and prompt. However, there are a number of different drugs for different types of epilepsy, and it is a mistake to give up after failure with any one drug—or even with several.

A drug known as mesantoin combined with phenobarbital, and a drug called dilantin have given good results in this disorder. In other types of epilepsy, another drug called tridione has helped.

It is usually found that a combination of several drugs is best, and it may take a while for the doctor to work out the right combination.

Office Wolf Is Very Tame--

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK—(P)—No history of the romance of our times is complete without a chapter on that Romeo of the water cooler—the office wolf.

He is the Peck's bad boy of the business world, but no office is the same without a wolf or two.

What is an office wolf? In pulp love tales he is luridly pictured as a prowling scoundrel evilly plotting to lead astray a poor but innocent working girl.

In fact, however, his teeth are less sharp than they are in fiction. Often, alas, his teeth are as false as his designs.

The average office wolf is as harmless as a tame skunk. He isn't really a wolf at all—he is just a mouse with great yearnings. Usually he is a married man with a wife at home who understands him only too thoroughly. That is why he paws his way around the office in the romantic hope of finding some girl who will be kind enough to misunderstand him a little. If there is anything a man can't stand, it is to be understood all the time.

One of the delusions of the office wolf is that his overtures to the hired girls are a guilty secret, known only to him. The truth is, of course, that every conversation in the privacy of the ladies' room starts off:

"Well, Mabel, what did old wolfie whisper to you this morning? Isn't he a perfect scream? He'll be the death of me yet—from laughing."

The girls get a big kick out of comparing the techniques the office wolf tries in his daily rounds. If he ever realized this, he would dwindle quickly into an office mouse. That would be too bad because, by and large, he does bring a sense of mild adventure and fun into the workaday routine.

I don't pretend to be an authority on office wolves. But girls I have consulted on the subject say they generally fall into three classes—bookkeepers, junior executives, and vice presidents. There is also the cut wolf. This is usually an office boy with a desperate case of puppy love for the boss's secretary.

"Bookkeepers want to take you to a horse race on their day off," said one girl. "Junior executives are careful wolves—they want to meet you for a cocktail after work at some out-of-the-way side-street bar."

"And vice presidents? Well, they are pinchers. You have to get out of their way. But I really feel sorry for vice presidents. They are such frustrated men. I guess they really lead lonely lives."

This young lady said the two standard feminine formulas for dealing with office wolves are the classic cold shoulder treatment or the play-dumb answer: "Gee, Mr. Jones, I don't get what you mean."

But there is a simpler and even more effective way of handling the more persistent type. "Just meet him at the office cooler some morning and whisper to him that you love him desperately and can't live without him," she said. "That will frighten any office wolf out of his skin."

That is the true measure of the breed. The office wolf visualizes himself as a Casanova going through life being endlessly fascinating. He may think he is searching for romance. But there is one thing he is sure he isn't looking for—and that is more responsibility.

But the wise boss will always be sure to hire at least one office wolf, purely as a morale factor. He keeps the girls amused. Women are always happier if there is a foolish man around for them to laugh at.

Democratic Republicans Scheme

By George Sokolsky

Two theories appear concerning the widespread participation of Democrats in the Republican primaries:

1. That the Republicans cannot elect a president without the aid of Democrats or "independent" voters. Therefore, the activity of Democrats, wherever lawful, in Republican primaries foretells the election of the Republican candidate who can attract to himself Democratic voters;

2. That the Democrats have devised a means for nullifying the Republican primaries, so that the Republican candidate is chosen not by his partisans but by those who seek his defeat on election day.

Theory No. 1 represents the Eisenhower position; theory No. 2, the Taft position.

Across both runs the disclosure of Sam Rosenman that Franklin D. Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie were developing plans for a coalition party under their apparent joint leadership. It could only be apparent, not real, because as Roosevelt was actually in the White House, he would be the top man in such an arrangement and the Willkie Republicans would necessarily have been absorbed by the Roosevelt New Dealers. It was a plan for the obliteration of the Republican party.

Again, it must be borne in mind that the original Eisenhower supporters planned for him to be nominated by both the Democratic and Republican parties. General Eisenhower is reported to have told General MacArthur in Tokyo that he expected to be nominated by both parties. At that time, the principal manager of General Eisenhower's boom was George Allen, Democrat and associate of Harry Truman. The plan seems to have been a continuation of the Roosevelt-Willkie scheme for the capture of the Republican party by the Democrats by infiltration and absorption.

Further, in the development of this plan is the enervating slogan: "Taft is the best man, but he cannot win." As the Republicans have not won an election since 1932, this slogan, widespread and continuous in its use, has frightened many Republicans who would prefer to win under any circumstances. The slogan has encouraged many Republicans to believe or hope that if they had a candidate for whom Democrats would vote, they could win at long last. Even if the presidential candidate were not quite a partisan, the Senate and House would become Republican as the result of a landslide.

The direction of these movements is toward a one-party system such as Mussolini developed in Italy, Hitler in Germany, and such as now exists in each of the Soviet countries. There is nothing sacrosanct about the two party system, except that it actually serves the people better than the multi-party arrangement, such as exists in France where governments topple overnight, or the one-party system which enslaves the whole people to a self-perpetuating elite.

In this country, the two-party system has been developed to a greater efficiency than anywhere else, for the opposition party not only is capable of forcing the majority party to disclose its purposes and activities to the people, but my minority representation on the committees of both houses of Congress, the minority party is never without responsibility.

The reduction of the two-party system to a farce, as it must be when the members of one party vote in the primaries of the other party, could, in time, alter the political procedures of the country by making, let us say, Republican candidates for a nomination dependent upon Democrats. It is like boss Hague of New Jersey selecting, in the good old days, both the Democratic and Republican candidates for governor—so that no matter who won, Hague managed.

When it is coarsely stated in terms of a Hague overlordship, it is reprehensible to most Americans. But when the process is refined into Democrats voting in the Republican primaries, it does not appear to be so offensive. Actually it is worse, for it involves a subversion of the concept of the primary.

The trend among bankers and big business men to support a one-party system is characteristic of their revolt against the professional politician, who is no longer dependent upon them for funds. Democratic politicians get their money from labor unions and liberals; Republicans find campaign funds more readily in the middle west and in Texas than in Wall Street and Pittsburgh. The bankers and business men therefore seek a coalition of influence, which can be a one-party system set up by them.

Their error is that Fascism is as abhorrent to the American people as Communism.

Sunday School Lesson

By ROY L. SMITH

A popular movie of a few years ago, entitled "The Lost Week-End," described the debauching of a soul given over to alcohol. Something about his alcoholism robbed him of the holiest and best of life.

Millions of moderns might better be without their Sundays, for they arise on Monday morning worse off than they were on Saturday night. That which was designed as a means for recuperating has become nothing more than an occasion for letting down.

The Hebrew Sabbath

In their fanatical zeal to "keep the Law," the Jews of Jesus' day imposed upon themselves literally thousands of restrictions. There were more than 14,000 things they could not do on the Sabbath day. That which was designed as an aid to life had become a burden on it, and Jesus revolted against the whole idea.

But it is important to notice that Jesus did not give himself over to profane living, just because he revolted against the nonsense which passed in the guise of "Sabbath keeping."

One Day in Seven

It is coming to be recognized in all civilized lands that the worker is entitled to "one day's rest in seven." Thousands of our readers can remember the time when the 12 hour day and the seven day week were accepted standards in certain industries.

The crusade for the 40-hour week, with one day's rest in seven, has been the product of the preaching of the Christian Church. The sanctity of the Sabbath has been one of the most powerful arguments used in behalf of the rights of workers.

To profane the Sabbath, and to undermine the influence of the Church, is to destroy the effectiveness of one of the best friends the worker and his family have ever had.

It is a common thing to hear commentators, lecturers, and even preachers, condemn the "home, the church, and the school," for their failure to prevent juvenile delinquency. Occasionally a judge from the bench says, "If the Church had done its work well, this boy would not have been in this court today."

And at the same time the Church has been in competition with commercialized amusement and recreation, with commercialism and secularism of all sorts, while it was trying to get that juvenile into Sunday School on the Sabbath day.

The Uniform Sunday School lesson for May 11: "The Right Use of Sunday," Exodus 20:8-11; Mark 2:23-3:6; Luke 4:16ab, 13:10-17.

In a western city a great newspaper had been promoting a Sabbath day carnival with all the power of its columns. Children by the hundreds had been taken out of Sunday School as a result. And in the very midst of the affair an editorial comment declared that "the present wave of juvenile crime is due to the failure of the home and the Church." As if they had to battle the paper, if they were to win the fight for their own children.

Prodigal Parents

But a certain amount of guilt must be admitted. The churches have not always stood solidly in defense of their own Sabbath institution, and parents have been prodigal in the fact that they have taken their children out of Sunday Schools for reasons they would never have tolerated, if it had been the week-day school which was involved.

Jon W. Ervin Now At Chanute Field

Aircraftman Third Class Jon W. Ervin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Ervin of Jeffersonville, is now taking a special intensive course in airplane mechanics at Chanute Field, Rantland, Ill.

A3c Jon W. Ervin

A graduate of Jeffersonville High School in 1950, Ervin enlisted in the Air Force in October, 1951.

He received his basic training at Sampson Air Force Base, Geneva, N. Y., and went from there to Sheppard Air Force Base at Wichita Falls, Texas.

Before entering the service, he was employed at the Colonial Stair and Woodworking Co. plant in Jeffersonville.

He was home for a brief visit a few days ago.

Kill Dog Supposed To Have The Rabies

A dog suspected of suffering from rabies was shot and killed by a policeman at Oakland and Millwood Avenues, Thursday afternoon.

The dog, a small short-haired brown animal, had been frothing at the mouth and showing other signs indicating it was suffering from the rabies.

The animal's head was taken to Columbus by Sanitarian Charles Jones for examination to determine whether or not the dog was rabid.

While the dog wore a collar, there was no tag on it.

Thirty-six Ladies Attend Regular Luncheon Bridge At Country Club

Purple and lavender was the color scheme carried out at the Washington Country Club Thursday in arrangements of purple iris and lilacs were used in profusion in the club lounge at the fortnightly luncheon bridge with Mrs. Otis B. Core, hostess chairman, assisted by Mrs. Howard Wright, Mrs. Hazel Smathers and Mrs. Ralph Whaley.

The same flowers in the predominating theme centered each table seating the members and guests for a congenial luncheon hour and places were found marked with place card tallies featuring lavender coloring.

During the afternoon eight tables of guests enjoyed the progressive game and at the close of the game daintily wrapped awards went to Mrs. W. Stanley Paxson, who was the holder of high score and Mrs. Hugh Sollars second.

Guests included were Mrs. Penelope Eyster Harvey of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, Miss Iris Mae Gaut, of New York City and Mrs. Harry Thraill of this city.

Nurses Meet At Dorn Home

The regular May meeting of the Fayette County Professional Nurses Association was held at the home of Mrs. Malcolm Dorn near Madison Mills Thursday evening, with fifteen members present.

Miss Gretchen Darlington, president, presided over the lengthy business session which included an invitation read by Mrs. Eugene Ladrach from the Clinton County Nurses Association to attend their next dinner meeting, May 13 and a tour of the new Clinton Memorial Hospital.

Reports were heard from the annual May Day Breakfast, which were most gratifying and to date the ticket chairman, Mrs. Dana Hyer, reported 888 tickets sold and 152 sold at the door.

A panel discussion was held on suggestions offered on ways to improve planning and service for the annual 1953 Breakfast.

Mrs. Dorn was assisted at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Ellis Bolton, and Jean Rodgers in the serving of a tempting dessert course during the social hour.

Mothers Honored At Banquet By Class Members

The annual Mother-Daughter Banquet of the Loyal Daughters Class of McNair Church, one of the highlights of the year was held Thursday evening at the Country Club Drive In.

A purple and yellow color scheme was carried out on the long table seating the members and guests for the three course dinner and the centerpiece was a watergarden of yellow tulips flanked with potted African violets with a wide band of purple extending the full length of the table.

Mothers were presented with corsages of red carnations with place cards featuring purple violet designs and Mrs. Charles Keaton welcomed the guests with the response given by Mrs. Paul Elliott.

Mrs. Frank Thompson gave the invocation and during the congenial dinner recordings from the organ at the church by Miss Jane Kerns was enjoyed.

The program following included a comedy act by Mrs. Frank Thompson and Mrs. Edwin Thompson entitled "Who Is That Man?" and a delightful talk by Mrs. John Glenn who used as her topic "The Greatest Mother."

Mrs. Harry Fitchthorn read a poem "Your Own Mother" and African violets were presented to Mrs. David Whiteside, the oldest mother, and Mrs. William Malone, the youngest mother, among the guests.

Mrs. Ivan Kelly read a poem entitled "The Church Tea" and a recording of "My Mother's Prayer" by Mrs. Norman Armbrust and Mrs. Russell Miller.

Mrs. Jane Kerns closed the program with prayer.

The committees with Mrs. Russell Miller, as chairman, included Mrs. Ivan Kelly, Mrs. Allen Hays, Mrs. Charles Keaton, Mrs. Harry Fitchthorn and Mrs. Jane Kerns.

Honored guests as mothers were Mrs. John Glenn, Mrs. Charles

Royal Chapter Eastern Star Inspection Held

On Thursday evening one-hundred seventy-five members and guests were present for the annual inspection of Royal Chapter Order of the Eastern Star, with Mrs. Homer Reber, Deputy Grand Matron, of the Twenty Third District as inspecting officer.

The ritualistic work was impressive exemplified by the Worthy Matron and Patron, Mr. and Mrs. Urie Acton and their efficient Corps of officers and candidates were: Mrs. Walter Heath and Mrs. Delbert Kimmey, who received white Bibles from the Chapter presented by Mr. Marvin Thornburg.

The chapter room was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and the inspecting officer complimented the officers for their splendid work and the chapter for the many activities in which it is engaged.

The inspection was preceded by a dinner prepared by the ladies of the Sugar Grove Church served by nine male members of Eastern Star, with Dr. Fred D. Woollard

3 Boy Patrolmen To Get Medals

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP)—Three boys, all of whom dashed into streets to pull schoolmates from the paths of oncoming vehicles, will receive gold medals here Friday.

The medals were the American Automobile Association's top awards for heroic members of the nationwide schoolboy patrol. Winners were:

Norman Bissett, 11, Battle Creek, Mich., Ronald Hanle, 14, Steubenville, Ohio, and Robert Rahming, 12, Bridgeton, N. J.

Roundhead School Loses Charter

COLUMBUS, May 9.—(AP)—Revocation of the Charter of Roundhead local school in Hardin County was announced Thursday by the state department of education.

R. M. Eymann, assistant education director, said the school failed to meet minimum standards because it didn't have enough teachers and its standards of instruction were below state levels. The students will be transferred to another school. The revocation is effective July 1.

Selective Service Test Scheduled

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP)—College students who missed the last two selective service qualification tests will have one more chance to take a quiz that might defer them from military service.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, draft director, said the test will be held May 22. It's open to any college student who did not take the Dec. 13 or April 24 quizzes.

Application for taking the test must be postmarked no later than midnight Saturday.

Mrs. Opal Callender, leader, opened the meeting with prayer and the usual reports were read and approved.

It was decided to hold a rummage sale in the church basement, May 24 at 1 P. M.

It was announced that the Guild association meeting would be held in the church June 4 at 6:30 P. M. with Circles 4 and 5 as hostesses for the dinner.

Devotions were led by Mrs. James Garringer and Miss Marie Marchant and they used as their topic "Mother's Day."

The Bible study on the book of St. John was conducted by Mrs. James Garringer.

Mrs. Carl Smith program leader showed slides in missionary work among Indians in Guatemala and she was assisted in the narrations by Mrs. Ormond Dewey.

The meeting adjourned with the Mizpah benediction, and refreshments were served by Mrs. Worrell and her assisting hostesses, Mrs. James Garringer, Miss Vera Veal, Miss Marjorie Evans, Mrs. J. F. Dawson, Mrs. Harry Lawson, Mrs. Hazel Devins, Mrs. Lydia Williams and Miss Marie Hughes.

Mrs. Cornwell Is Hostess To Guild Members

Circle 2 of the Westminster Guild of First Presbyterian Church assembled at the spacious home of Mrs. Ronald Cornwell for the May meeting with fifteen members present and three guests included.

Ruby vases filled with red tulips and spirea were used as decorations by the hostess and meeting was opened by the leader, Mrs. George Trimmer, with prayer.

The usual reports were heard and the fellowship committee also gave a report.

Mrs. McCoy Gardner, spiritual life leader, offered prayer and discussed the ninth and tenth chapters of the Book of John most interestingly.

Mrs. Kenneth Bush read a poem entitled "Slowing Down For The Lord's Prayer" and Mrs. Ruth Chaney, program leader, presented Mrs. J. E. Magly in a paper on Venezuela and Mrs. J. E. Yates had a paper on Guatemala.

The program closed with a candlelight service and a recorded solo of the Lord's Prayer.

During the social hour following Mrs. Cornwell was assisted by Mrs. Harold Hyer, Mrs. Kenneth Craig, Mrs. Ruth Chaney, Mrs. Roy Hagler and Mrs. Eugene Smith in the serving of refreshments.

Guests included were Mrs. M. L. Clark, a former Guild member, now residing in Lancaster, Mrs. William Turner and Mrs. McCoy Gardner.

Garden Club Members Meet At McCoy Home

Mrs. Thane McCoy was hostess to the members of the Buckeye Garden Club, Thursday afternoon and the home was decorated throughout for the occasion.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Charles E. Hughes, president, and opened with the singing of the club hymn in the Garden by fifteen members and one guest.

Roll call was responded to by naming obnoxious weeds.

Plans were made to attend the 30th anniversary celebration of the Fayette Garden Club on May 12, the Work Shop in June, at the Dayton Power and Light Company and the Washington Club Flower Show June 5 at the Hotel Washington.

A luncheon and Flower Show, was announced for June 18 at Commercial Point and plans were also made to attend.

Planting of flowers around the fountain at the Bloomingburg Cemetery will be one of the club's annual projects, and a flower plant and food market was planned for

WSCS Members Enjoy Luncheon At Davis Home

Mrs. Glen Earl Davis, Sr., entertained twelve members of the M. Olive WSCS at her home in Bloomingburg Thursday afternoon.

The meeting was conducted by the vice president, Mrs. Edna Irons and the opening song was Faith of Out Mothers.

Mrs. Davis was devotional leader and read Scripture from St. Luke and Mrs. Fay Washburn led in prayer.

Following the usual reports special reports included three calls, nineteen cards, six donations and three bouquets.

Election of officers was held and the past officers were again chosen as follows: president, Mrs. Amer Whiteside; vice president, Mrs. Edna Irons; secretary, Mrs. Kenneth Smith; treasurer, Mrs. Wilbur Hyer; missionary secretary, Miss Jean Marie Irons; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Walter Engle; press reporter, Mrs. Kenneth Smith; organists, Miss Cora Plymire and Mrs. Glen Davis, and spiritual life secretary, Miss Cora Plymire.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Irons and included a solo by Mrs. Fay Washburn "Alone," two poems by Miss Carol Davis, entitled "A Brand New Baby Brother and "Mary Jane" and the Lord's Prayer led by Mrs. Irons.

Following the meeting a late covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by the members and one guest, Mrs. Glen Earl Davis, Jr., and children.

Special Meeting Of Garden Club

June 16 at the Town Hall in Bloomingburg.

Following the lengthy business session a social hour was enjoyed and tempting refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Raymond Scott.

Mrs. Paul Elliott, a guest, was also welcomed as an honorary member.

Hays Calling For Kefauver Bloc In Ohio

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Rep. Hays (D-Ohio) called Thursday for a "solid bloc" of Ohio delegates to support Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Hays, a leader in Kefauver's successful campaign to collect delegates in Ohio, said he is inviting state organization delegates pledged to Former U. S. Sen. Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland as a favorite son to "climb aboard" in the interest of party harmony.

Kefauver won 27 of Ohio's 54 Democratic presidential delegates in Tuesday's primary, losing only five contests in which his supporters were entered. Bulkley candidates representing 22 convention votes were unchallenged by Kefauver backers.

Hays said Kefauver's popular following among the Democratic rank and file in Ohio was demonstrated by the "impressive" statewide plurality of his delegate candidates rolled up over the opposition.

This, coupled with Kefauver victories in more than 87 per cent of the delegate races entered, Hays said, should be "proof enough" of that general support.

Navajo Indians Get New Jobs Mining Uranium

Artistic Ability Comes To Light Down In Tunnels

By GORDON G. GAUSS
NAVAJO INDIAN RESERVATION, Ariz.—(AP)—Uranium destined for atomic bombs is helping relieve the plight of the Navajos, proud Indians whose poverty has come in for nationwide attention.

As yet, it can't be said to be enriching them—not by ordinary standards. But it is providing jobs for a good many. It is putting some in position to collect royalties. It is dropping money into the tribal coffers to help develop the primitive land. And the end is not in sight.

"I suppose uranium stands a chance of making some millionaires among the Indians but the odds are against it," theorized one of the region's best known white men. He is Harry Goulding who operates a trading post and tourist spot in Monument Valley, isolated region of spectacular red rocks along the Utah-Arizona border far from main roads.

"Uranium mining has been a God-send for these Indians," Goulding said. It has brought a payroll in here and it has given them a vocation.

Monument Mine, No. 2; is the largest uranium operation in the United States. So few outsiders have seen it, the property is reputed to be a "secret" mine, but it isn't.

From Mexican Hat, Utah, the mine is 25 miles southeast. But the usual direction given to a newcomer is this: "When you've wandered a day and half in the reservation, you're probably there."

OPERATED BY Vanadium Corp. of America, Monument No. 2 employs Indians in all jobs below the supervisory level. Many of them are unable to speak even the rudiments of English. Nearby properties operated by the Climax Uranium Co. also largely employ Indians.

The big Monument No. 2 mine lies at the crest of a windswept hill of blowing sand. It has ore seams from 2 to 22 feet thick. Workings are on two levels—unusual in uranium properties—and there is some strip mining at the surface. There is 1½ miles of tunnels.

Found when a Navajo brought a chunk of ore to Goulding's post, the mine has been operated intensively only about five years.

Most of the Indians working here—currently about 80—learned mining on the spot.

"We put foremen right along side of them to teach them," VCA vice-president Dennis Viles said. "We stay with them until they learn. They're quick to catch on, considering the business is new to them. They're faithful."

Evidences of the Navajos' artistic ability were visible in the mine. The sand-colored tunnels were decorated at many places with realistic black drawings smudged onto the rock with the flame of carbide lamps.

Most of the workers live on the side of the long hill in tiny homes, surrounded by cactus and sagebrush. Actually, 300 people live in the vicinity, many them children.

GOULDING POINTED out with pride that some Indians have abandoned the round, squat bogan for cabins. But the doors almost invariably face east because Navajo tradition requires this so that the first rays of the rising sun can enter the home.

Many persons believe the Indians resent the white man's opening of the mines, but Goulding says, "I've found the Indians to be very progressive-minded. Anything that will help them, they'll go along with. Of course they have to be convinced."

One full-blooded Navajo, Cato Sells, operates sizeable uranium properties in the Lukachukai and Carrizo Mountains, some as an individual and some with the Climax Co.

So far uranium has been found only in the sparsely settled northern part of the reservation. Indians may now file individual claims and then lease them to others with approval of the tribal council. A sizeable royalty goes to tribal funds in each instance.

Washington C. H. Soldier Gets Courage from Prayer in Korea

The soldier son of a Washington C. H. preacher got both comfort and courage when he turned to prayer while on the battlefield in Korea.

Now back in a base hospital in Japan recovering from wounds, Cpl. John E. Detty, the son of Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Detty, told about his experiences in a letter to his parents.

Cpl. John E. Detty

With the letter he sent a poem he had scribbled on a sheet of paper Oct. 14, 1951 while in the Chorwin Valley in Korea, but did not get the opportunity to send it home until many weeks later.

His letter, written from the hospital, disclosed that he had been in two major battles from the time he went into action in Korea last June 4 until he was wounded.

Just when he was hit, his parents said they were not certain because Cpl. Detty's letters had not been specific. They did learn, however, that he had been wounded in the right arm and right leg and, the fear, possibly in the face or back because he had mentioned that one eye was affected.

He said he wrote the poem he enclosed with his letter after a battle in which "almost all of my buddies got killed."

That may have been the battle in which he was wounded, but he did not say it was.

HE WROTE that he was "nervous" while lying on the ground, but after a prayer "something came over me and I wasn't afraid any more and I got up and went on my way."

His poem follows:
God Is My Keeper
Altho in Korea, a war I don't love,
Each night I pray to the Lord above
I pray to him who reigns on high

To hear all soldiers when they cry.
I've found that in war there is no luck
Just pray, believe and trust in him that's enough.

No matter what you do or where you go
Believe in God and he will lead you back to the shore
Never forget him after he has made a way
I'll remember him in happiness and all thru the day

Sometimes wet, weak and war-worried

As I go along He gives me strength and says Go On Then I hear his voice whisper to me
I smile and look to Heaven and say "I thank thee"

When in my foxhole, wet and tired and beat
I pray to him for my safety to keep
And there as I take time to pray
For him to accept me in his graceful way.

Now a Combat soldier in Korea I am that way
And I know that I will be coming home someday.

5 More Atom Explosions Due On Yucca Flat

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 9—(AP)—Five atom blasts down and perhaps five to go. That is the score in the spring nuclear series.

After No. 5 (Wednesday's tower shot in the dark), the Atomic Energy Commission indicated the series would continue indefinitely.

Since April 1 there has been a shot a week, with the exception of Holy Week before Easter. Next week's shot will be an invitational event for 500 military observers representing all branches of service, the AEC said. They will be stationed in foxholes, but will conduct no maneuver.

The next maneuver—the third phase of Exercise Desert Rock IV—will involve some 1,500 Army troops, probably two weeks hence.

The tests involving the military undoubtedly will be higher-level bomb drops from planes to lessen the danger to human life.

The fact that the AEC still has three 300-foot test towers standing on Yucca Flat indicates the possibility of further tests similar to Wednesday's experiment.

Eleven persons working in Groom's Mine, 20 miles northeast of the test site, have been permitted to return there. The AEC reported no radiation hazard above normal.

2 Horses Seek To Top Proximity

Pronto Don And Good Time Keyed To Break Queen's Earning Mark

NEW YORK, May 9—Harness racing's two winningest horses arrived here this week, their sights set on the all-time money winning record now held by the retired Proximity.

The trotter Pronto Don and the pacer Good Time were flown in from the West Coast and bedded down at Yonkers Raceway where each has a pair of $10,000 engagements in the next tree weeks.

But a third equine passenger on the same plane may indirectly have something to say about the outcome of the dollar chase shaping up.

The pacer Dudley Hanover could prove to be a dominant factor as Good Time ($217,690) and Pronto Don ($192,622) tackle the task of passing Proximity, the latter credited with $252,000 on U. S. Trotting Association record books.

Both Pronto Don and Dudley Hanover are owned by the Hayes Fair Acres Stable, Du Quoin, Ill. Good Time is the property of Bill Cane, Yonkers Raceway president.

ON THE SURFACE it would appear that Good Time, by virtue of his present superior standing in the dollar column, would make the grade first. But the fly in the ointment is Dudley Hanover.

While Pronto Don was winning all four of his West Coast starts—including the $30,000 Golden West Trot—in effortless fashion, Good Time was being beaten by Dudley Hanover in his two California outings. The Cane pacer finished fourth in his first start and then was second to Dudley in the $31,000 Golden West Pace.

Thus, every time Dudley Hanover goes to the post there will be additional incentive to win.

Not only will he be boosting his own earnings which now exceed $115,000, but he will be assuring that the winner's end of the purse doesn't fall to Good Time. All of which stands to make it simpler for Pronto Don to wrest the money crown from Proximity.

Pronto Don, Harness Horse of the Year in 1951, has won 14 in a row over a two-year period. And although he hasn't yet faced Star's Pride, the horse that beat him three times last season, the caliber of his trotting opposition cannot begin to compare with that confronting Good Time on the pacing side of the ledger.

At Yonkers, Pronto Don is slated to start in the Mt. Vernon (May 16) and the New Rochelle (May 23). Good Time and Dudley Hanover match strides in the Stamford (May 17) and the Bronx (May 24). Each event is worth $10,000.

Harness horse notes: THE NUMBER of harness horses starting in a single year has more than doubled in the past decade. There were 4,500 starters in 1942 and 11,280 last year. Over the same period purses jumped from $1.5 million to $13 million.

No winner of the Hambletonian

Stake has ever sired a winner. One of the top 1952 choices, however, is Hardy Hanover, son of Titan Hanover, who won the 1945 version of the harness racing classic.

Jerry The First, one of harness racing's all-time great pacers, has been retired to stud at owner Eddie Cobb's Washington C. H. Farm. The son of Jerry M earned $130,000 in his career and twice knocked off the $50,000 Golden West Pace.

Full brothers finished one-two in a recent California harness race. Robert Morris, six, beat out his 3-year-old brother, Voting Trust. Both pacers are by Volomite and out of The Worthy Miss Morris.

Canniere, the French mare that won the International Prix D'Amérique in Paris last January, has been nominated for the $50,000 Roosevelt Two Mile Trot at Roosevelt Raceway Sept. 11.

More than $3 million in prize money will be distributed on harness racing's Grand Circuit in 1952. The Roarin' Grand got under way at Arcadia, Cal. last week.

Harness Racing Opens Saturday Night At Lebanon

The old sport with the new look, night harness racing, will beckon to thousands of equestrian fans in the tri-state area when the Lebanon Trotting Association opens a 19-night meeting Saturday at Lebanon Raceway.

Eight races are on each night's card, the first starting at 8:15 and continuing every 22 minutes.

Acclaimed by many sports and turf editors as the fastest growing sport in America, harness racing is attracting many of the younger generation as well as the fair sex to the sulky.

Mrs. Thelma Coder of Cardington is training a stable at Lebanon Raceway. Many of the veteran drivers, such as Harry Miller of Eaton, eleventh leading harness horse driver in the United States, are on hand to bring some of the money champs of the harness world down the home stretch. Lou Huber, Jr., Cincinnati, sixth leading driver in the nation, is among the younger drivers who have stables quartered here.

More than 350 trotters and pacers from all sections of Ohio and a dozen other states are stabled at Lebanon Raceway.

Pari-mutuels, the automatic tote type, will be used under state supervision with an electric odds board to be located across from the grand stand. The latest in starting gates and photo finish will be featured.

Newcomers to the University of Florida football schedule are Stetson, Clemson and Tennessee. All three were "bowl" teams last season.

Lions Beat Hurricane

12-4 Victory
Racked Up Here
In Fast Game

Connecting for 13 hits, the Lions of WHS won their second game of the season from Wilmington's Hurricane, 12 to 4, on Wilson Field here Thursday afternoon.

When the two teams met at Wilmington in their SCO League game earlier in the season, the Lions took the decision by a margin of only one run. In Thursday's return game, it was a different story; the Lions won it in a romp.

Lanky Wayne Van Meter, on the mound for the Lions, breezed his assortment of pitches by the Hurricane batters with such baffling effectiveness that they were held to only 4 hits. The big football tackle and end, who has not been hitting too well up to now, also came through with a pair of doubles and a single to aid his own cause.

Bobby Alkire joined Van Meter to lead the Lions hit parade. He collected a triple, a double and a single in four trips.

BUT IT WAS husky Dale Orihood, the graduating football center and linebacker, who opened up with the power. The redheaded left fielder blasted one over the left field, the lilacs and clear into the Cherry Hill School yard. He smacked his circuit clout in the fourth inning with Eddie Robinette scoring ahead of him.

In spite of the lopsided score, the game was one of the cleanest defensively either team has played all season.

The Lions got off to a good start by tallying 6 runs in the first inning, largely the result of timely hitting. From there on they were more moderate in their attack while doubling the score of the opening game.

Unless playoffs can be arranged for the two postponed games with Hillsboro's Indians, that was the last home game of the season for the Lions.

They are booked to go to London for a return game Tuesday and to go to Frankfurt next Friday. The Red Raiders from London edged the Lions 9 to 8 in the opening game of the season here.

Canton To Get '53 Star Tilt; Curb on Sport Seasons Near

COLUMBUS, May 9.—(P)—Ohio's High School Football Coaches Association has awarded its 1953 All-Star North-South football game to Canton.

The annual all-senior contest will be held the night of Aug. 15 in Fawcett Stadium as the climax of a clinic and coaching school starting Aug. 3 when the players—cream of the state's scholastic talent—open practice. Jimmy Robinson, Canton Lehigh coach, was named director of the event. Robinson, former president of the coaches' association, was leading figure in promotion of the All-Star contest when it was staged in the Stark County city in 1947 and 1948. The 1952 North-South classic will be held in Akron's Rubber Bowl next August.

In another action by the coaches, the state high school athletic board will be requested to regulate the starting and closing dates of all scholastic sports seasons.

THE MOTION was passed by a two-to-one majority, after a previous motion by Seraphim Pope of Lima Central had been voted down. Pope advocated a referendum by the school principals, but the majority of the mentors thought that was the wrong approach.

Biggest beef of the football mentors was against the unlimited practice sessions allowed basketball players, permitting overlapping into the football season. The state high school athletic associa-

Two State Lakes Ruled Complete

COLUMBUS, May 9 — (AP)—The Ohio Natural Resources Commission has approved completion of Rocky Fork and Veto Lakes despite the fact it has not acquired the land it wants around the two lakes.
Rocky Fork Lake is in Highland County, and Veto Lake in Washington County.
The commission said its policy is to buy at least a 500-foot public access strip around all state lakes and reservoirs. A commission spokesman said a 500-foot strip around Rocky Fork Lake would cost nearly $500,000. Land around Veto Lake is much cheaper.
The commission estimated about $131,000 more is needed to complete Rocky Fork Lake, and $39,
000 for Veto Lake.

Toss of a Coin May Break Tie

Recount Request
Still Possible

The contest in Tuesday's election for Republican central committee-man in the third ward here, which resulted in a tie vote, 170 each, between Glenn Rodgers and Richard Willis, Jr., probably will be decided sometime Saturday by the Fayette County Board of Elections.

The board is scheduled to meet Saturday for its official canvass of the vote in the county. After this is completed it makes its official declaration of the county vote by precincts and certifies it to the secretary of state.

If the official count shows that a tie vote exists between Rodgers and Willis, or any other two top candidates on either ticket, the board, by law, is authorized to decide the issue by lot.

IT IS NOT required to call in the candidates but the board may do so out of courtesy to them, in order that they may witness the "toss of the coin" if that is the method determined upon for a decision.

After it is decided which one is the winner by lot, the loser has the privilege of seeking a recount, within five days, if he so desires.

The one asking for a recount must put up $10 for each precinct to be recounted. This is returned to the candidate if the recount shows him to be the winner.

There are three precincts in the third ward, which would mean that either applicant for a recount would be required to put up $30 to cover the expense.

GOP Debates

ence between the 1948 and 1952 situations.

Russell, in a Press Club speech, sharply denounced proposals for a compulsory fair employment practices commission, core of the dispute. FEPC would ban job discrimination against Negroes and other minorities.

Politics otherwise:

IN NEVADA Friday, Republicans and Democrats open two-day conventions to pick the state's 10-vote Democratic and 12-vote Republican delegations. Retired Lt. Gen. Albert Wedemeyer, a Taft leader, was keynote speaker at the GOP meeting and Eisenhower boosters commented: "It looks like they've pulled a fast one."

Illinois Democrats, at a Springfield convention Thursday, praised their Gov. Adlai Stevenson as "ideally qualified" for President. They approved such a resolution over Stevenson's protests that he is running only for reelection as governor.

New York Gov. Thomas Dewey told his state's 96-vote Republican delegation not to vote for him at any time during the nominating convention. Dewey, the GOP candidate in 1944 and 1948, said he is all-out for Eisenhower this time.

In West Virginia, which holds its primary Tuesday, Eisenhower reportedly was gaining strength. But even his most optimistic backers count on no more than seven of the 16-an delegation to be chosen. Taft has a majority of the candidates for the posts pledged to him. Democrats choose a 20-vote delegation.

Sen. Estes Kefauver's Washington headquarters said the Tennessee has won nearly six times the popular support of his nearest competitor for Democratic nomination.

THE STATEMENT credited Kefauver with a total of 1,809,054 votes in 11 state primaries. Russell was listed next with 332,766.

Also in Washington, Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma predicted the Democratic national convention will deadlock. He said he looks for at least 10 names placed in nomination. Kerr, now running fourth in delegate strength among five avowed candidates, said he believes he has the best chance to win nomination after balloting.

Eber 4H Club to Try for Honor Roll

Members of the Eber Advanced 4-H Club decided to try to meet the requirements for becoming an honor club this year at their meeting at the home of Betty and Sally Howard.

The group discussed the requirements and special projects needed to become an honor group.

Ruth Ann Wright was introduced as a new member by Marilyn Parrett, president of the club.

The members discussed their individual sewing projects of pajamas and nightgowns. They will have their patterns and material selected for the next meeting.

Health sheets were handed out and explained to the members who filled out the sheets and returned them.

The next meeting, June 2, will be devoted to discussing community projects. Ludene Torbett will be the hostess. The date was selected since there are many school activities which would conflict with the meeting time.

President Elected By Future Teachers

Roberta Theobald today is the president-elect of the Future Teachers Club of Washington C. H. High School.

She was elected following a brief, but spirited, "campaign" conducted during the regular meeting in the library Thursday noon.

Four seniors, who will be going out of school next month, made speeches for the four candidates—Shirley Riegel for Shirley Hickman, Becky Waters for Dianne Elliott, Paddy Boso for Mary Lou Shoop and Mary Lou Sollars for Roberta Theobald, the winner.

Final preparations also were made at the meeting for the traditional Future Teacher breakfast which is to be held at the Washington Hotel Coffee Shop at 7 A. M. Monday.

The seniors are to observe teaching in the city's elementary schools next Thursday. The assignments to the different schools and grades were announced before the meeting adjourned.

Fighters Fined $10 And Costs

Carl Havens, facing two charges of fighting in and near the Coney Island Restaurant, was fined $10 and costs in municipal court on one charge. The other was dismissed.

One charge was filed by Lillian Knisley and the other by the police. Havens resides near Greenfield. Charged with fighting with Havens was James Russell Dilly, 42, who was fined $10 and costs.

Michael Piroso, truck driver, Duquesne, Pa., posted $15 on a reckless operation charge, and forfeited the bond.

It weighs about 75 tons but is highly mobile and is carried on a platform suspended between two engine cabs at its front and rear. It can travel at a speed of about 35 miles per hour on highways—and it can cross bridges "which Army engineers are already trained to build for present heavy divisional equipment."

It can travel cross-country and can fit into a landing ship designed for amphibious operations.

And it can fire with accuracy "comparable to conventional artillery, and tests indicate it is much more accurate at long ranges."

Membership in the League of Women Voters is growing by leaps and bounds, says Margot Gayle, the organization's New York spokesman, who points out:

"Look at the committee working for each of the major presidential candidates right now, and you'll see a great many women of real stature in social and economic circles throwing all their energies into the campaigns. These are sophisticated and experienced women leaders whose efforts are not only enthusiastic, but also effective."

Good Hope Grange Initiates Class

An interesting session was held by Good Hope Grange at the high school auditorium in Good Hope, when plans were made for the alumni banquet May 16.

Plans also were made to observe rural life Sunday by attending religious services in a body at the Good Hope Methodist Church.

The home economics committee is in charge of arrangements.

The first and second degree obligations were conferred upon Dale Murray and Marjorie Hatfield by Mrs. Everett Rife.

These two candidates, with six others, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Thompson, Willard Baird and Mrs. Elva Overly, were given the third and fourth degrees by the Greenfield degree staff.

Visitors were present from several granges.

Mrs. Norma Campbell was in charge of the nutrition contest in which awards were made made to Miss Clara Rowland, first; Mrs. Hazel Garringer, second and Mrs. Reta Karney, third.

Refreshments and a social hour followed the business session.

Merry Menders Approve New Rules

Members of the Merry Menders 4-H Club now have a new constitution and set of by-laws for their club. They spent most of the time during their meeting at the home of Carolyn Crago Wednesday evening working on the constitution.

Following the approval of the constitution, the members decided to begin writing the history of their club. At the next meeting a committee will be selected to keep it up to date.

Carolyn Crago was elected vice president and Beverly Allen, health and safety officer to replace vacancies left in those two positions by the resignation of Barbara Yarger.

The members learned some more about sewing and making stitches during a tour of the Singer Sewing Machine Co. last Saturday. The members were taught some new stitches which they will put in their scrapbooks on sewing.

During the project work period, the members pinned patterns on their material. They plan to have the patterns cut out and their dresses and blouses basted by the next meeting.

Joanna DeWeese will be the hostess for the club's next meeting at her home Tuesday May 27.
